All Questions and Suggestions Welcome

If you have a question about your service, a concern about how your service is delivered or if you have a suggestion about how to fill a gap in public transport services please let us know.

Your fellow passengers or volunteers may also provide information but they will not have the full story concerning your service provision and in the past incorrect information has led to passenger disappointment and distress.

We also need to hear your point of view on broader transport issues. Often your suggestions lead to small changes in existing service delivery that benefit everyone or direct us to apply for funding for new transport services.

Your input ensures that we have the evidence we need to mount a convincing argument to the funding bodies.

So be confident make the call and tell us what you think.

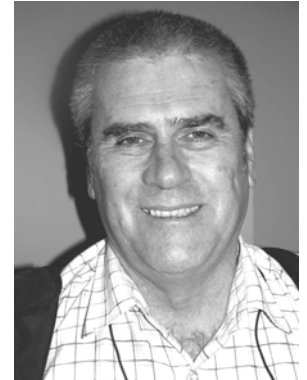

There are several ways that this can be done:

1. Talk to your driver
2. Ring the service Coordinators Jenny for all matters relating to Group transport and Rufina for any thing to do with individual transport services.
3. Ring the office and ask to speak to the Manager, Jane if you have a serious issue regarding service coordination.

This is the best way to get information about your service provision and to get any issues resolved.

Botany Link launches Monday April 6th

What is the Botany Link?

The Botany Link is a free community bus service operated by South Sydney Community Transport (SSCT) and is funded through the Home and Community Care (HACC) Program.

Who can use the service?

People who are receiving the aged or disability pension.

Where does it go?

The Botany Link starts its trip from East Redfern, travels through Rosebery to Eastlakes shopping centre. It will then pick up passengers from Mascot, Eastlakes and Daceyville and then travels up to Kingsford and the Prince of Wales Hospital. If you have a destination on route please advise our office and we may be able to drop you close by or exactly where you need to go.

When does it start?

The service will start on Monday 6th April and for the next three months SSCT will develop the route and timetable so that we provide the best service that benefits the majority of people.

Do I need to book?

Bookings are essential for this service and you must ring to avoid disappointment and to enable us to schedule pickups and drop off points that are not marked on the route.

Remember that in the first 3 months during the development stage the timetable and route will be different each week.
