SSCT Launches Its Website!

South Sydney Community Transport is proud to announce the launch of its first website, which can be found at:

www.ssct.org.au

The website is filled with everything you need to know about the current services and there are links to other agencies and service providers that you may need. You can find all the timetables for our upcoming group excursions, as well as the routes and timetables of our shuttle services. All our newsletters, membership applications and bus hire information can also be found here.

Why not take the shuttle this Thursday or Friday to visit the computers at Glebe Library or Kings Cross and have a look for yourself!

The City of Sydney Council provides FREE computer training until June 2008 in Customs House and Kings Cross Library. South Sydney Community Aid also offers beginners training courses and has a free computer centre. The Factory Community Centre offers courses during most months.

So there's no excuse not to log on and find out if you or any of your friends appear on our pages!

The Next Generation– A Blueprint for Aged Services and Facilities 2008-2018

The City of Sydney Council has asked us to let you know about ‘The Next Generation’ Report, which will guide the Council’s activities for the next ten years. Council is committed to providing best practice services and facilities for older people. These services need to be flexible to accommodate the ageing population in the long-term.

There was extensive community consultation in the formulation of this document with community forums, focus groups and individual interviews with a variety of older people and service providers.

This Strategy is now available at all Activity Centres, Libraries and Neighbourhood Service Centres. The Council is after feedback and comment on this Strategy, so please take a look and forward your suggestions to-
